

WHITE HOUSE NEWS PHOTOGRAPHERS ASSOCIATION®

'Eyes of History'® 2015 Contest Judging Weekend on the National Geographic Campus!

The WHNPA is pleased to announce our traditional general membership meeting in the staff auditorium on Friday night, February 6th beginning at 6:30 p.m.

Not to be missed:

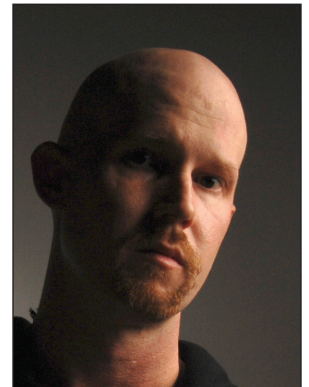

An exclusive presentation featuring two of the WHNPA's 2015 Multimedia judges:
Katie Falkenberg and Ross Taylor!

Katie Falkenberg is a staff photographer at the Los Angeles Times where she works as a photo and video journalist. Her work has been honored by Pictures of the Year International, the Media That Matters Film Festival, and the National Press Photographer's Association. For her work documenting three families still struggling from the lasting effects of the Great Recession, she received the Robert F. Kennedy award, the Hillman Prize, and the Casey Medal for Meritorious Journalism for Short Form Video.

Ross Taylor is a Visiting Professor at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill. Previously, he was the inaugural fellow in the Multimedia, Photography and Design Department at the S.I. Newhouse School of Public Communication at Syracuse University. His master's project was a series of films in the local burn unit.

His professional recognitions include National Photographer of the Year, Northern Photographer of the Year, New England Photographer of the Year, Virginia Photographer of the Year and North Carolina Photographer of the Year (twice). His coverage of an Afghanistan trauma hospital garnered numerous international and national awards, and his work has also appeared twice on the cover of the Best of Photojournalism Magazine.

He is co-creator of The Image, Deconstructed.
